

To All Our Valued Customers:

In an effort to keep our shelves fully restocked and to best serve our customers while meeting this unprecedented demand during these challenging times, we have made the decision to temporarily hold off on distributing our weekly sales flyers.

Our buyers are working diligently every hour within our vendor food supply chain to continue to bring our customers the quality they expect from Vince & Joe's Gourmet Market. We do not want to disappoint any of our customers through misrepresentation of product availability. Keep shopping with us as we continue to focus on restocking our shelves daily. Please check our website at vinceandjoes.com for weekly updates. Thank you.
